Digital content or video producer/ editor

We are friars who dedicate our lives to prayer and the ministry of spiritual formation and guidance. We run a retreat centre at Boars Hill which is on the outskirts of Oxford since the house was purchased in 1961. A lot of our work involves publication and media production.

The core of Carmelite spirituality is a journey of the heart. The Carmelite way of life is a prophetic vocation of living in the presence of God and a life of union and then going forth and bearing witness to Him in the life of apostolic activity. We know the treasure of a life focused on God and want to help others get to that place.

Overall purpose of the job

The Carmelite Priory in Oxford is looking for a video editor to work with them on their online media presence. This area of our work is continuing to grow and reach people internationally, providing them with resources for spiritual support and growth in their prayer life. To help with this, we need a video editor. This work will be freelance as videos are created when courses and events are put forward by the priory.

Responsibilities

1. will take on the work of editing existing videos and preparing them for a proper video library.
2. will generate new videos to tell the story of the priory giving a new narrative.
3. will video talks and shows at Boars Hill. Adequate notice will be given in advance in these situations.
4. will generate promotion videos for new programmes and events.

Person Specification

- someone creative and excited to try new ideas
- someone with an interest in working with Video content, for example have studied, are studying, or have done some work in the past on personal projects
